A BRIEF HISTORY OF THE BODH GAYĀ MATH.

THE Bodh Gayā Math is an ancient Monastery of the Hindu Sannyásis, styled Girs, who belong to one of the ten orders of Sankara Achárya's Sivite school. It traces its origin back to the middle of the sixteenth century of the Christian era. It is said that as early as Mágh of the Fasli year 997 (corresponding with 1590 A.D.), one Gossain Ghambandí Gir, a holy devotee of this order, while on a pilgrimage tour, became so very fond of the sylvan solitude of the neighbourhood of the place where the Math now stands, that he selected it as the place of his religious devotion, and subsequently built a small monastery there for the accommodation of the itinerant members of his order. He was the first mahanth, and the founder of the monastery. He was succeeded by his disciple, Chaitanya Gir, in 1022 Fasli (corresponding with 1615 A.D.). Mahanth Chaitanya Gir was much renowned for his learning and austere piety, and spent his time in worship and religious devotion. He died in 1059 Fasli, and his remains were interred in the enclosures of the great Buddhist temple, and a small temple was built thereon. Mahanth Chaitanya Gir was succeeded by his disciple, Mahanth Mahadeva Gir, who led a very pious and austere life. He worshipped Anna Púrná Deví for several years, and his dhuni (place of worship) and samádhi (tomb) of pukka masonry work stands in front of the Mahábodhi temple, where also a temple was built by him in honour of his Ishta, ( tutelary) goddess Anna Púrná. The tradition is that the goddess Anna Púrná Deví was so much gratified that she presented him a katorá (cup) for distribution of grain, with the áshirbád (blessing) that if the mahanthas of the Asthán would continue freely distributing sadábarat (alms) out of this katorá, they would never be in want. It is said to hold exactly enough to satisfy the appetite of whoever receives its contents, be he man or woman, child or adult.

This talismanic cup is still in the monastery, and grain is doled out daily with it. It was under the auspices of this goddess, the presenter of the inexhaustible cup, that he was enabled to build the large monastic building, the present Math of Bodh Gayā, which is situated on the bank of Lílájan river (another name for the sacred Phálgu), in the midst of a garden extending over an area of about 52 bighas, and surrounded by a high masonry wall. He also founded an alms house, which has been much extended by the later mahanthas, where rice and pulse are daily distributed to three to five hundred persons up to the present time.

He died in 1089 Fasli (corresponding with 1682 A.D.), and was succeeded by his disciple, Lál Gir.

Mahanth Lál Gir is said to have been much favoured by the Emperor of Delhi, and the villages of Mastipur and Tárádih, in which the Buddhistic Mahábodhi temple is situated, were made over to him by a Royal firman. A jagir of six villages was presented to the Math by Wazírul-Mumálik Qamaruddin Khan. He was followed by his disciple, Keshava Gir, who was so well known for his piety and devotion that before he ascended the Mahanthi Gaddi of Bodh Gayā, and in the lifetime of his guru, he got a present of Antarii and other villages from Emperor Farukh Siyar of Delhi, and in the Royal firman ne was styled as Faqir Kámil wa Haq Parast (a monk who had reached the highest degree of talismanic powers and of the merit of holy orders). He was succeeded by Mahanth Rághava Gir in 1155 Fasli (corresponding with 1748 A.D.), who was followed by Mahanth Rámhit Gir in 1176 Fasli (corresponding with 1769 A.D.). Mahanth Rámhit Gir contributed greatly to increase the wealth and prosperity of the Math. He obtained lákhiráj lands and villages from the Maharajas of Tikari and Ichak. He died in the holy city of Benares, and his dharam samádhi (tomb) was built by his successor in the Bodh Gayá samádhi (family burial-ground). He was followed by his disciple, Mahanth Bálak Gir, in 1213 Fasli (corresponding with 1806), who obtained a few villages from Maharaja Rámsingh of Jaspur, and was succeeded by his disciple, Shiva Gir, in 1227 Fasli (corresponding with 1820). Mahanth Shiva Gir, who was equally noted for his personal beauty, generous heart, and religious devotion, and who made no less than 1,400 chelás (disciples), brought the condition of the Math and its properties to a most flourishing condition.

It is said that in his time some of the Math properties were resumed under Regulation II of 1819 and Regulation III of 1828, and that they were all released after due enquiry being held. The Mahanth, it is said, was thus also acknowledged as Mahanth of Bodh Gayá by the British Government. After his death in 1253 Fasli (corresponding with 1846 A.D.), his disciples, following the custom which had been prevalent in the Math since the very beginning, selected Bhaipat Gir, one of their own body, as the Mahanth of Bodh Gayá. Mahanth Bhaipat Gir was at the helm of affairs for 21 years. He is said to have distinguished himself for his conspicuous loyalty by helping the English Government in the dark days of the Indian Sepoy Mutiny. He died in 1274 Fasli (corresponding with 1867 A.D.), and after him his disciple, Hem Naráyan Gir, succeeded to the Mahanthi Gadi of Bodh Gayá.

Mahanth Hem Naráyan Gir was a great Sanskrit scholar, and collected a large library of original Sanskrit manuscripts. He built a large house at Benares at a cost of about fifty thousand rupees for the benefit of those gosains of his order who wished to pass the last days of their life in the holy city of Kashi (Benares). He also built many temples in his zamindaries, and established a dharamsála and excavated a tank at Zindápur on the Hazáribágh road. This Mahanth rendered valuable assistance to the Government during the famine of 1873-74, and in recognition of his services he was presented with a Certificate of Honour in the name of the Queen-Empress of India on the 1st January 1877, the day of the proclamation of the title of Empress of India. He was known to be one of the most influential and respectable zamindars of the district, and was held in great reverence by the entire native community. The Government of India, as a mark of personal distinction, exempted him from his attendance in the civil courts under Government orders, dated the 22nd February 1876.

He was very religiously inclined, and spent a great portion of his time in worship and religious devotion. In 1882 he went out on a (lárath játrá) pilgrimage, with the intention of passing the remainder of his days in mere austerity. He therefore executed a registered deed of gift (htibá) on the 25th of August 1882, in favour of his disciple (chelá) Krishna Dayál Gir, who was more familiarly called Brahmáchárí on account of his pious habits. He stated in this deed that as, in consequence of his old age, he wished to retire from the worldly life, he desired to abdicate his mahanthship in favour of any of his disciples who would be the most eligible, and as a pancháyat consisting of five of the most respectable gosains of the Math had unanimously selected Krishna Dayál Gir as the fittest amongst the disciples, he, agreeing with the panches, appointed him as his successor, and made an absolute and free gift of all his properties in favour of the said Krishna Dayál Gir. Krishna Dayál Gir thus obtained possession of all the properties appertaining to the Math, and reigned as mahanth de facto for nearly four months. During this short period he showed good capacity for work, and ruled over the Math in a very liberal spirit. He also contributed Rs. 2,500 towards the expenses of repairs of the Mahábodhi temple. However, Mahanth Hem Naráyan Gir, who had set out on pilgrimage, returned again to Bodh Gayá and, at the most earnest solicitation of his disciples and other gosains, consented to take up the onerous and responsible duties of the mahanthi of the Math once again. A registered deed of relinquishment (básidáwa) was therefore executed by Krishna Dayál Gir on the 22nd December, 1882, who most gladly and cheerfully gave up and abandoned all the right and title he had derived under the above described deed of gift (hibbá) in favour of his guru and donor. During his lifetime Mahanth Hem Naráyan Gir thus once more assumed the management of the estate, and managed it with great prudence. Mahanth Hem Naráyan Gir died at Benares on the 12th Paus, corresponding with the 27th December, 1891. His dharma samddhi (temple) is built in the Bodh Gayá samádhi (the family burial-ground).

The Mahanth, as well as his disciples (cheldás) are pledged to a lifelong celibacy, and, according to the time-honoured custom of the Math and the rule of their order, when a disciple of the Math dies his properties, moveable or immoveable, revert to the monastery.

Succession to the mahanthship of Bodh Gayá is governed according to custom. When a mahanth dies, all his disciples nominate five gosains of their own Math as panches or arbitrators to select a worthy and fit successor to the gaddi out of their own body; and all the disciples abide by the decision of the panchayat so constituted. Accordingly, a panchnámah was executed on the 13th of Magh 1299 Fasli, corresponding with 1892 A.D., by all the disciples of the late mahanth, by which they empowered gosains Bishun Dhári Gir, Raghubar Saháy Gir, Rámkaran Gir, Mohan Gir, and Jai Rám Gir, to elect a mahanth for the Bodh Gayá gaddi out of their own body, and all these five gosains gave their written and unanimous verdict in favour of the same Krishna Dayál Gir, in whose favour the late mahanth had made a gift. Mahanth Krishna Dayál Gir was considered most eligible, being the most learned, the most pious, the most religious, and the most capable of all his fellow disciples.

The formal ceremony of ascending the ancient and holy gaddi of the Math was performed with great éclat on the 21st Magh 1299 Fasli, corresponding with the 4th of February, 1892, on which day, after the usual pújás, homa and sacrifices, the present mahanth, Krishna Dayál Gir, was declared Mahanth of Bodh Gayá in the presence of the principal officials and other residents of the district of Gayá. When the new mahanth was formally installed on the gaddi as the Mahanth of Bodh Gayá, all the numerous disciples presented him each with a sheet in token of their acceptance of his supremacy. This concluded the ceremony of installation. Mahanth Krishna Dayál Gir is the 12th mahanth of Bodh Gayá. His present income, which is derived from presents offered to the great Mahabadhi temple, personal presents made by disciples to him and to the holy shrines in the Math, and the landed property, amounts to upwards of a lakh of rupees a year. The expenses of the monastery under head saddbarat, or daily alms-giving, feeding the gosains, or members of the fraternity of all the subordinate maths, and the expenses on occasion of the principal festivals, such as Dasahrá, Tilsankránti and others, are said to be on a grand scale. Among other items of expenditure the one under bhándára is noteworthy. Some time after the death of a mahanth and subsequent to election of a new mahanth, a grand feast is given, to which as many members of the fraternity throughout India as can possibly be asked to join, are invited. They are fed on very richly and highly spiced cakes called “mál puá.” This feast, it is said, costs nearly a lakh of rupees.

The assets of the estate are always in a very solvent state owing to good management. One peculiar feature in the management of the domestic and foreign affairs of the estate is that all the posts in and outside the monastery are reserved for the members of the order. All persons employed,—from the grass-cut to the highest priest, or biggest village agent,—are gir gosains of Sivite school, disciples of His Holiness the Mahanth of Bodh Gayá.

The present occupant of the gaddi, Mahanth Krishna Dayál Gir, is a young man of very pious habits. He has shewn great application for business, and seems to have the affairs of the monastery well in hand. He has shewn good public spirit and liberality in the right direction by subscribing Rs. 5,000 to the “Grierson Well and Public Gardens Fund,” and seems to possess the entire confidence of the members of his order, by whom and the native community (both Hindus and Musalmans) he is held in high esteem and regard.

English translations of the sanads or royal grants form appendices to this report. A statement shewing the details of property held by the Math is also enclosed.

ITLAINAMAH to Mahanth Shiva Gir, holder of mauza Gogapur, Mohamda alias Bhagwán-pur, Salaia, Bhanwarbar, Partappur, Gojra, Sagasot, Harha Harhi, Rámságar, Babbni, Sakhwárá uz Rakba Dhondhwa, Bagulá, Dharhara, Darbár Telai and Pesra, in pargana Sherghati and Maher, and Dhanáwan uz Rakbe, Jamra Jatia, called Gulni, in pargana Pahra, Zila Bihár, is as follows :—

That letter No. 74, dated the 15th March, 1841, from Mr. Currie, Secretary to the Board of Revenue, in connection with the release of tenures of Asthán Math Bodh Gayá belonging to Mahanth Shiva Gir, addressed to the Commissioner of Revenue, has been received.

Translation of the letter of Mr. Currie, Secretary to the Sadar Board of Revenue, is as follows :—

"In reply to your letter No. 1768, dated the 6th January, in connection with papers herewith annexed, regarding a certain lákhiráj tenure in the akhárá of Sannyásis at Bodh Gayá which were confiscated by the Deputy Collector of Khás Mahál, Zila Bihár, I am directed by the Hon'ble Members of the Sadar Board of Revenue to forward a copy of the Government order No. 260, dated the 23rd March, for your information and guidance."

Translation of the letter of His Honour the Governor of Bengal.

"His Honour the Governor directs that, with regard to the vidyúasht of all the tenures of the akhárá of Sannyásis at Bodh Gayá mentioned in the 7th paragraph of the letter of the Hon'ble Member of Sadar Board of Revenue, they be informed as follows :—That the jama of every mauza, which is in aggregate Rs. 1,807, be omitted from the rent-roll.

On enquiry made in the sarishta and on referring to the registers of khás mahál and the lists received from the office of the Commissioner of Revenue, and the Khás Deputy Collector, all of which are collected, regarding the tenure belonging to Asthán Math Bodh Gayá, it appears that no list containing the area of lands and dates of their confiscation has been received from the Board in accordance with which orders regarding the release are to be issued, so that this office may not be held responsible for it, it is thought proper that a letter in English be sent to the Hon'ble Board asking to forward a list of the villages belonging to the akhárá of Sannyásis at Bodh Gayá, and which are liable to be released. On the receipt of the list referred to above, orders will be issued in due course. For the present the collection of rents of the maháls under settlement be stopped. If Mahanth Shiva Gir executes and files an ikrárnamah to the effect that he will realize all the sums due from persons holding these maháls, equal to the mustájri jama, and no claim shall rest with the Government in connection thereof, and that he will draw from the Government Treasury only the sum equal to what he realizes from the mustájira, then there shall be no objection to the allowing of these properties to remain in the possession of Mahanth Shiva Gir. But let this also be known that, in case the Government were not to accord its sanction regarding any village from among the villages contained in this list, then that mahál would be taken off from the possession of Mahanth Shiva Gir. Accordingly it is ordered—

That a copy of this rubkári be sent to Munshi Azimuddin Hussain, Khán Bahádur, Deputy Collector, directing him not to realize the revenue from these, whether summarily or permanently settled villages, which are in the possession of Mahanth Shiva Gir, and also directing him to submit a statement in English and Persian showing the realization of rent of these villages from the date of their being taken in the khás mahál, either by sfr or settlement, in the forms in which previously a statement for a few of the released villages was submitted. A copy thereof with certain alterations is sent herewith, so that on the receipt of the list from the Board of Revenue, it may be submitted to the special auditors. That as soon as Mahanth Shiva Gir files the ikrárnamah referred to above, orders regarding possession over these villages and those under settlement, and also those which are in the possession of others shall be issued. That an illainámah containing all the above facts be issued to Mahanth Shiva Gir. That the parwáns of release in the forms prescribed by the Board of Revenue will be issued on receipt of the list applied for.

As the villages Babbni and Sakhwárá have, under the Board's sanction, been entered in the Collectorate rent-roll, a copy of this rubkári be sent to the Collector of Bihár with the request that he shall not realize the revenue of these villages until further orders of the Board of Revenue. That as the fees of the villages referred to above have not been settled, a copy of this rubkári be sent to Ray Makhan Lal Bahádur, Deputy Collector, directing him not to interfere with the completion of the settlement of those villages. Accordingly you have been informed of the facts referred to above.

The 10th day of May, 1841, corresponding with 5th Jeth 1248 Fasli.

I DESIRE to put on record my warm appreciation of the courteous and hospitable reception given to me by Mahant Krishna Dayál Gir on the occasion of my visit to Bodh Gayá. But, however acceptable are such acts of personal courtesy and good feeling, the great interest and pleasure of my visit has been the sight of a place and of its surroundings which are held in reverence and honour by every Buddhist, as well as by many who by profession are not Buddhists, and the evidence which I have seen on all sides that, in the hands of their present guardians, all is being done that care and devotion can do to preserve and hand down to future generations these priceless monuments of the history and of the religion of so many millions of the human race.

DAMRONG, Prince of Siam.
